

U.S. BOMBERS HIT NAZI AIRDROMES IN FRANCE

The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

ONE OF THE MOST remarkable and significant events of the weekend was the complete absence yesterday of any defense by German warplanes during the widespread assaults on western Europe by 1,700 American and British airplanes.

Yankee Thunderbolts even attacked Nazi airdromes within sight of Paris without bringing a single Hitlerite fighter off the ground. Now that's an amazing failure for Hitler's great Luftwaffe which once ruled Europe, and it undoubtedly had the Allied air chiefs in London with their heads together last night.

The answer to this strange development is of the utmost importance to us; and one which shouldn't be jumped at. We should be most unwise, it seems to me, to rush to the conclusion that Hitler no longer is capable of flinging a defensive airforce into the air. We shall hear plenty from the Luftwaffe before the war is over. The true solution of our mystery probably is this:

1. The Luftwaffe has been vastly reduced in strength by losses in battle and through Allied bombing. There has been such wholesale destruction of Nazi warplane factories that Hitler no longer can replace the destroyed airplanes.

2. The terrific Red onslaught on the eastern front is calling for every warplane the Fuehrer can spare. This doesn't mean that he has stripped western Europe of air power. It probably does mean that he is conserving what planes he has there for use against the coming Allied invasion. He has been depending more and more recently on anti-aircraft guns to ward off Allied attacks. Also he may be reorganizing some air units.

It requires no imagination to understand the Nazi need for defensive air power. His key to the smashing Red armies—the air force of the Russians at the Prut river—frontier of Rumania—after their epic drive of more than 300 miles from Stalingrad, and their continuing thrust into Poland, not only set the triumphal guns of Moscow booming but brought from British Premier Churchill the assurance that the Russian feat "constitutes the greatest cause of Hitler's undoing." He sprinkled a bit of cynicism on that by adding inelegantly that "the guts of the German armies have been largely torn out."

AS FOR THE WANING strength of Hitler's air force, a month ago a high ranking American air force spokesman in London said since Jan. 1 Germany's twin-engine fighter production had been cut 85 per cent and single engine production was down 70 per cent.

COOLING OFF PERIOD AT ANZIO

BOTH MAN AND GUN get pretty hot during the tense moments when they are battling the enemy. So when things quieted down for a while in the Anzio beachhead recently, Pvt. Francis W. Maguire, Harvard, Ill., bathed his feet with cold water held in his steel helmet. DEDICATION OF CITADEL HELD

300 Attend Program Sunday at Salvation Army's New Headquarters

Nearly three hundred persons attended the dedication ceremonies of the new Salvation Army barracks on S. Broadway Sunday afternoon and other visited the citadel during the day and many attended the first worship services last night.

A short concert by the division ensemble, led by Capt. Robert Barren, officer of the corps here, preceded presentation of the deed and keys by E. M. Stephenson, treasurer of the building committee, to Lieut. Col. Claude E. Bates of New York City, eastern territory field secretary.

Invocation was given by Rev. Carl Asmus, followed by Scripture reading from Solomon by Major James I. Coates of Cleveland, divisional secretary.

Lieut. Col. William Spatz, Cleveland, Ohio divisional commander, introduced David Bevan, chairman of the advisory board, who presided during the program.

Bevan related the history of the corps here in the last eight years and pointed out the influence and community position it occupies through the outstanding service of its leaders and workers.

PATROL IS CALLED ON THREE MISHAPS

Three minor traffic accidents were investigated by state patrolmen in the district Saturday night. No one was injured in the mishaps.

William H. Lorenz, 30, of Cincinnati, lost control of his truck-trailer on Route 14, near Unity, at 11:55 p. m. The truck ran off the road and turned over.

Cars driven by Allen Lee Gibson, 16, of Leetonia, and Andrew Ekay, 38, of Leetonia, collided head-on on Route 344 at 11:56 p. m. The accident occurred as Gibson, driving east on the highway, attempted to pass a parked car and collided with the westbound Ekay car, with the patrol, 28, of Beaver Falls, and Floyd S. Haller, 40, of Youngstown, were drivers of two automobiles which figured in a collision on Route 14, west of Columbiana, at 11 p. m.

REDS POISED FOR DRIVE IN ENEMY REGION

Soviets Stand At Prut River Where Hitler Started 3 Years Ago

(By Associated Press) LONDON, March 27.—The Red army was poised today for its first thrust onto enemy soil after smashing triumphantly to the Prut river border of Rumania from which Adolf Hitler launched the southern wing of his ill-starred invasion of Russia nearly three years ago.

Russian big guns already are already laying down a barrage on Rumanian territory, Moscow dispatches said today, and Soviet infantrymen were expected to surge soon across the narrow Prut which they reached on a 53-mile front yesterday, only a week after they spanned the broader Dniester, now 60 miles behind them.

As 24 volleys from 324 guns thundered in Moscow last night and rockets burst above the city in celebration of the drive to the enemy's border, the army newspaper Red Star asserted: "For the Red army there are no boundaries; her boundaries are victory, Berlin, and a trait jacket for the mad German yolkvire."

Premier Marshal Stalin also reported capture of the Bessarabian city of Byelst, a victory which drove another German avenue of retreat from lower Russia. Other Soviet forces were declared within 30 miles of last (Jassy), through which runs the major Nazi escape railway from the Black sea port of Odessa.

Ploesti Threatened

The surge to the Prut was regarded in London as already dooming a German stand at Odessa and besieged Nikolae. Turkish reports that Hitler was rushing reinforcements through Hungary and Rumania suggested he probably would make a stand in Rumania in an attempt at least to save the Ploesti oil fields. The Russians were reported within 200 miles of the vital oil regions.

The Russians also hammered out new gains near the middle Dniester river yesterday, a Soviet communiqué said.

Mullins War Work Cited By Whitlock

The Mullins Manufacturing Co. of Salem and Warren sold $21,600 worth of ammunition and other war materials in 1943, President George E. Whitlock told stockholders at the annual meeting in New York City Saturday.

He said he expects the company's postwar business to compare in volume to its war-expanded volume, and it has an excellent demand now for its peacetime goods.

Whitlock, who is conducting a campaign to insure postwar prosperity and employment, said it may be necessary to expand facilities, but he does not expect any great drain on the company in transition from war to peace.

The time required for conversion, Whitlock explained, will depend on how quickly about $5,000,000 worth of equipment owned by the federal government can be moved out of the Mullins plant.

Mullins' Youngstown Pressed Steel division at Warren has been making large quantities of artillery shell cases as well as other products, while the Salem plant has been making various other war materials.

Its principal postwar plans are for development of steel kitchen equipment, as well as various types of steel stampings.

Underground Travel Pay For Miners Is Upheld By Court

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Supreme court ruled today that underground iron ore miners are entitled to "portal to portal" pay for the time spent traveling between the mouth of the mine and the place where the ore actually is mined.

Justice Murphy delivered the 7-2 decision, applying specifically to employees of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co., the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Co. and the Republic Steel Corp., operators of 13 mines in Jefferson county, Alabama.

At issue was whether the miners were entitled, under the Federal Wage-Hour act, to be paid for all the time spent underground, except for the lunch period. The federal circuit court at New Orleans had ruled for the miners.

The companies said the circuit court decision had been used as "a judicial precedent in support of the claim of the United Mine Workers of America (UMWA) that it was the intention of Congress to include

NELSON URGES WAR WORK FOR 4-F's

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD CHAIRMAN Donald M. Nelson (right) speaks to Rep. John M. Costello of California shortly after his appearance before the House Military Affairs Committee in Washington. The WPB chief said he favored some type of legislation that would force 4-F's and others exempt from military service into essential war work so that "they can pull on the cars just like their brothers in the armed services." He told committee members that he believed it is too late now to enact a full-scale national service act. (International Soundphoto)

Churchill War Review Radiates Allies Confidence Of Victory

(By Associated Press) LONDON, March 27.—Restrained approval, lacking in the enthusiasm of the early war years, was expressed today by most London newspapers for Prime Minister Churchill's address last night in which he confidently predicted victory and praised the Russian westward advance as "the greatest cause of Hitler's undoing."

Generally speaking, there seemed some disappointment among listeners who had been expecting another great call to valor on the eve of the mighty, decisive events fore-shadowed by Churchill's warnings that "the hour of greatest effort is approaching."

In his 47-minute broadcast address, his first for a year, the prime minister did not touch upon problems of diplomacy confronting the Allied nations, as some quarters had expected, but reviewed the war's progress, defended his administration, and in general terms outlined post-war economic plans for Britain.

He spoke only guardedly of the forthcoming western invasion of Europe, but declared:

"I must warn you that to deceive and baffle the enemy there will be many false alarms, feints and dress rehearsals....

"When the signal is given the whole circle of avenging nations will hurt themselves on the foe....

Enemy Fails in Suicidal Raid In Solomons: Advances In India

(By Associated Press) The Japanese enemy beset on half a dozen fronts from Burma to the Marshalls, enlarged his trust toward Indian Imphal today and, nearly 5,000 miles eastward, apparently got set for another suicidal attack on the Americans grimly holding Bougainville in the Solomons.

In the rugged jungle country of the Ukhul, 32 miles northeast of Imphal and 15 miles inside India, the Japanese ran into fierce resistance of Allied troops and the harassment of Allied planes. But far behind his lines the enemy had to contend with a drive of British Commandos toward Myitkyina, main Japanese base above the Burma road. The British, along with jungle-trained Gurkha and Kachin troops, were within 32 miles of that base.

Chinese and American troops also drove upon Myitkyina from another direction, pushing down Mogung valley and helping clear the new Leda supply route to China.

While the heightened warfare moved slowly toward decisions in Burma and India, the Allies dealt clean-cut blows to the Japanese in two other sectors: American troops wiped out an enemy assault upon

Supreme Court Upholds Rent, Price Control

Federal Programs Held Constitutional in 6-3 and 8-1 Decisions

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 27.—The supreme court today held constitutional the price-fixing provisions of the Emergency Price Control act and the OPA's rent control program.

In the price-fixing case, Chief Justice Stone wrote the 6-3 opinion on appeals by two Boston meat dealers—Benjamin Rottenberg and Albert Yakus—from their conviction on charges of selling wholesale cuts of beef at prices in excess of the OPA maximum.

They were sentenced to six months imprisonment and fined $1,000 each by the federal district court at Boston.

Justice Roberts read the majority opinion in the absence of Chief Justice Stone. Justices Roberts, Rutledge and Murphy dissented.

Justice Douglas delivered an 8-1 decision in the rent control case revolving about Mrs. Kate C. Willingham, of Macon, Ga. Justice Roberts wrote a dissenting opinion.

Affirms Conviction

The majority opinion in the price-fixing case affirmed the conviction of the Boston meat dealers and stated that subject to requirements of due process, which it said were satisfied in this case, "Congress could make criminal the violation of a price regulation."

"Here," the majority stated, "in the exercise of the power to protect the national economy from the disruptive influences of inflation in time of war, Congress has seen fit to postpone injunctions restraining the operations of price regulations until their lawfulness could be ascertained by an appropriate and expeditious procedure."

"In so doing it has done only what a court of equity could have done, in the exercise of its discretion to protect the public interest."

"What the courts could do, Congress could do."

CHAPLIN TRIAL WILL RESUME

Comedian May Take Stand In Own Behalf Some-time This Week

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Charlie Chaplin may take the stand this week to deny the federal government's charge that he transacted red-haired Joan Berry to New York City for immoral purposes.

Trial of the 54-year-old movie comedian on charges of violating the Mann act will be resumed tomorrow in Judge J. F. T. O'Connor's court. As soon as the government rests its case, Defense Counsel Jerry Giesler is expected to ask for dismissal on the ground the prosecution has not presented sufficient evidence to warrant the charge.

If this is denied, Chaplin may take the witness chair to enter a court room denial along the line of that presented by Giesler in his opening statement to the jury of seven women and five men.

The defense concedes much of the government's evidence as to times and places, but denies Chaplin had sexual intercourse with his 24-year-old former protegee in October, 1942, when he went to New York City.

OPA Drops Expiration Date Plan On Food Ration Stamps

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Office of Price Administration said today it was eliminating the expiration dates on both red and blue food rationing stamps from now on.

A spokesman said the plan was in line with the policy already adopted on shoes and sugar, to prevent buying rushes just before the coupons expired.

Another factor, it was stated, was the tendency of consumers to cash in their unused ration stamps for tokens—which do not have expiration dates—thus creating a heavy drain on the supply of the new plastic ration currency.

"The prevention of token hoarding is a factor in the decision," the spokesman said, "but not the main one. This plan has been under consideration for many weeks."

Checks with OPA during the last several days brought the response that no decision had been reached, but it was learned today the formal order will be issued probably this afternoon. OPA's regional offices, expire June 20.

Unless some new change occurs, OPA's decision will make the currently valid red and blue stamps in ration book four good for an indefinite period.

Red stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, E8 and red stamps G8, H8 and J8 on June 18.

Blue stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, E8 were dated as good only through May 29, while blue stamps D8, G8, H8, J8 and K8 which became valid April 1 were originally scheduled to expire June 20.

KRUPP WORKS AT ESSEN ARE RAIDED BY RAF

Strong Forces of American Planes Reported Over France Today

(By Associated Press) LONDON, March 27.—Strong forces of American Liberators and Flying Fortresses blasted at Nazi airdromes in southwest and central France today, following up a night assault by RAF bombers on Essen, home of the Krupp works, with 2,000 tons of explosives.

"A very strong escort" of fighters including Lightnings, Thunderbolts and Mustangs accompanied the U. S. bombers into France. The terms indicated more than 500 big bombers and perhaps 700 or more fighters engaged in the strike at the Nazi air bases.

Hannover Also Hit

It was the 21st American attack of the month.

Along with the crushing assault on rebuilt factories at Essen, smaller forces of British bombers hammered the rubber center of Hannover 125 miles to the northeast, and railway targets at Courtrai in Belgium last night. Probably more than 750 RAF night bombers were out.

By daylight Sunday, some 1,700 United States planes, including heavy bombers, struck hard at targets in the coastal areas of France and Holland.

Other unspecified targets in western Germany also were attacked and mines laid in enemy waters during the overnight operations, which the air ministry said cost nine planes.

Clouds made full observation of the results of the attack on Essen impossible, the air ministry said, but it was apparent the RAF had dealt another concentrated blow at the city in an effort to wipe out "the results of reconstruction work which the Germans have been carrying on in this vital industrial center."

Last Visited July 25

Essen was last raided in force by the RAF July 25, 1943.

Previously Essen had been the main source of Germany's heavy armament, but after the July 25 raid Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair declared "Essen, and with it Krupp, has been shattered."

He called the results of the previous seven assaults on Essen "catastrophic," but warned the Germans probably would try to repair the damage.

Firemen Are Kept Busy Over Weekend With 11 Grass Fires

Firemen had 11 calls during the weekend from Saturday noon to Sunday night, Chief V. L. Malloy reported today. All the calls were for grass fires, caused in some cases by householders burning trash fires which got out of control and in a few cases, the chief said, by boys who set them for "the fun of it."

Two of the fires required considerable effort to control, necessitating the use of water to prevent buildings near the scenes from igniting.

The calls, often overlapping, kept the entire force busy all day Saturday, when six summons were answered. Two fires were extinguished on Sunday.

Chief Malloy said calls to two others had to be left unanswered Saturday because all equipment was in use and the calls came from outside the city.

The times of the calls and the return times were as follows:

Saturday—11:19 a. m. to 12:36 p. m., near Fifteenth st.; 12:15 to 12:54, near 352 Sharp ave. where the blade threatened buildings; 1:15 to 1:55 p. m., at Tenth st. and Jennings ave.; 1:57 to 2:20 p. m., at Brooklyn ave. and E. Third st.; 1:58 to 2:40, on Roosevelt ave.; 3:56 to 4:30 p. m., at Jennings and Second st., where small buildings in the field were saved.

Sunday—at 2:23 p. m., to the Mullins yard west of the Pennsylvania tracks where workmen burning off the ground had the blaze under control again by the time the department arrived; 2:25 to 2:41 p. m., at 877 Granite st.; 3:42 p. m., near 930 Prospect st.

Tax Collection Delayed By Re-appraisal Figures

GROWING PAINS

The American people have gone through the racking experience of disillusionment in two wars. The difference this time is that the disillusionment is not being put off till after the end of hostilities. We are being confronted in the course of the war with the chasm between our own moral judgment and the intentions and practices of our allies.

This experience could have been averted. Our disillusionment is the consequence of preoccupation with theories and ideals, to the exclusion of an understanding of the facts and realities of international relations. We have been too ready to pass idealistic judgment on matters which couldn't be settled in any way, shape or form by our idealism.

When Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain declared on Nov. 10, 1942, that Great Britain meant to hold its own in post-war settlements, his obviously true statement hit us with the effect of a child hearing for the first time there wasn't any Santa Claus. That was the first harsh impact of reality in World War II. Others, different in degree but not in kind, followed.

The present condition of mild shock should jar the American people and their government into a more intelligent and a better coordinated effort to exert practical as well as idealistic leadership in the solution of international problems of security. American foreign policy will be under close scrutiny from now on for signs of self-deception. We have come that far at least from Vice President Wallace's lovely plan to give away a quart of milk a day to the line forming on the right.

This does not mean the United States must abandon principle for expedient practices. It does not mean cynicism must grow out of disillusionment. It does not mean this government should adopt the double-dealing diplomatic methods of corrupt diplomacy, and it does not mean the grounds for effectual cooperation with our allies are being jeopardized. On the contrary, it means they may be relieved of the heavy responsibility of trying to kid America into thinking there is a Santa Claus—when they found out long ago there wasn't.

If we now are ready to face with national dignity befitting our age and place the plain fact that merely to enunciate the principles of a League of Nations or an Atlantic Charter does not make the principles binding thereafter because we say so, that will be a net gain.

If the ultimate effect is to make us understand that our moral judgment on other governments and people is subject to their acceptance and may be rejected, the effect will be good. If it makes Americans see that they are only one population concerned in international affairs and that their opinions must be tempered by consideration for other populations, this will begin to be prepared for the influence its destiny has given it. It can prove at least that we learned something from the hard ordeal of participation in two world wars, which is more than it has been possible to claim up to the present moment.

The omen for a clear understanding of world problems and their likeliest solutions never was better than it is now while we are undergoing hard knocks. The Germans, Japanese and Italians, held in a blight of narrow nationalism by cynical military cliques, never had this chance. It is a privilege denied the British and their empire by the scattered composition of their population. The Russians have been barred from true understanding of international relations by preoccupation with their revolution and their own deeply resented tendency toward moral judgment on their peers. The French, whatever they may do in the future, were paralyzed in the past by political decadence which kept them embroiled endlessly in their own narrow problems.

We are experiencing the growing pains of America's increasing stature in world affairs. Today's disillusionment over the Atlantic Charter is no different from what happened a quarter of a century ago when we began to understand that it would take more than Woodrow Wilson's idealism to stabilize the distressed and angry populations of Europe. Perhaps we had better begin to think of it as knowledge gained the hard way. Some may want to give up in despair, some will find refuge in sour cynicism and some may want to sink in isolation, but they will not reflect the will of the whole people to move forward toward practical security in a world already suffering from too much despair, cynicism and isolationist sulking.

Anger is never without a reason, but seldom with a good one.—Benjamin Franklin, 1753.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, March 28

A MOST promising and auspicious day is read from the ruling configurations. Promotion, progress and favors may be expected from those in influence, as well as from political, diplomatic and fraternal or corporate bodies. While there is a definite element of surprise, with an inclination to grasp at sudden openings, yet it would be well to pause and carefully consider their merit, as their effect may be far-reaching and precipitate unforeseen change or disruption. Literary and artistic pursuits may call for renewed aggression. Reason rather than emotions should influence all decisions.

Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may prepare themselves for an exciting year, with unforeseen changes, travel and adventure, accompanied by exceptional openings for advancement, preferment, and the friendly support of those in influence and authority. Cultivate these with tact and diplomacy. Deal with large organizations, but with logic and far vision, carefully considering plans and agreements, and eliminating hasty and emotional climax, as important denouements are in the offing, and there is danger of false moves.

A child born on this day may have rare talents of a literary, artistic or inventive genius. It may have an eventful career, in high favor with superiors.

BALKAN PEACE BIDS

WASHINGTON—A loser stands alone. Nazi Germany's satellites, Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania, know they hooked a ride on the wrong boat, and their actions bring only one conclusion—when the final showdown comes in Europe, Germany must stand alone against Allied power.

Hitler's partners in the Balkans are weary of war, clearly worried about the future, torn with dissent within their borders and seriously threatened from without by the turn of the war. They want out.

Hitler didn't help his own cause to any great extent. He dickered with the satellites, promised this and that, got them quarreling among themselves to keep his hold over them, gave them patches of land as means of appeasement. It served only to arouse the opposing elements within the states.

Peace Reports Increase

There have been increasing reports of peace feelers from the countries. Official statements from Bulgaria and Hungary indicate announcements of extreme importance after simultaneous sessions of the two nations' parliaments toward the end of March. The terse statements lead observers to feel the two nations may plan concerted action to quit the Axis.

Rebel forces have taken to the hills in Bulgaria to operate as Gen. Tito's forces do in Yugoslavia.

The Hungarian government has tolerated, even encouraged the growth of united opposition led by the Peasant Union. Vague peace feelers emanate from Hungary regularly, but they are always sufficiently vague to be explained away before Nazi masters.

In Rumania several groups actively oppose Premier Marshal Ion Antonescu's collaboration with Germany. Outstanding leader of the opposing groups is Julius Maniu, aged Peasant Party leader. It is doubtful he is vigorous enough to head an active revolt, but he has a large following of younger men ready to take over under his direction.

Disaster For Rumania

The war has been disastrous for Rumania, and with Russia's forces even now rushing toward her borders, promises to be more so. Antonescu didn't stop at Bessarabia when he reoccupied that territory. He sent his armies into Russia at Hitler's suggestion. Today the Rumanians have lost many times more than the 100,000 fatalities they suffered in the first World War, and now they face the punishment meted out to aggressor nations.

Hungary in the early stages of the conflict had more than 200,000 men on the Russian front. They were recalled last spring when Hungary declared itself a non-belligerent. Hungarian units, independent of the army, guard railways from the frontier into Poland, Yugoslavia and to the east.

Bulgaria did not declare war on Russia and hopes for mercy. Her armies have stayed home, but at Germany's insistence they have played watchdog over other conquered Balkan states. They have carried out the assignment in such cruel manner as to incur the hatred of Balkan peoples for some time to come.

Advice is not disliked because it is advice; but because so few people know how to give it.—Leigh Hunt, 1821.

Churchill Tells U. S. Troops Invasion Is Imminent

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of Allied invasion forces, and Prime Minister Winston Churchill are shown as they inspected American air-borne forces at an English base. On this occasion, Churchill, making the most authoritative reference yet to the imminence of the European invasion, told the U. S. paratroopers that they would strike at the enemy "soon." Further Comment On the Common Cold

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
SURGEON-GENERAL Thomas Parran, M. D., of the United States Public Health Service, has come out in a current magazine article and tells about how absenteeism due to illness is sabotaging the war effort, and urges us all to do our part for victory by keeping well. The General is always fascinating when he warms up in this way because he never thinks anything out, and I read him with great interest.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Among other things he is against the common cold. It causes more absenteeism than any other ailment and you can lick it, says the General. This is fascinating. I am against the common cold too, but I don't know how to lick it, and I followed up the General's introductory statement with bated breath.

The General is a little vague about how we are to avoid the common cold. He says we must use our common sense. That is like the famous advice about how to avoid falling hair, which was—"step nimbly to one side."

Difficult to Accomplish
"Stay away," says the General. "From people who have coughs or sniffles." But the war factories are full of people with coughs and sniffles and to stay away would seem to me to increase absenteeism.

AAA
NEWS

The War Food administration today extended indefinitely the period in which farmers can slaughter hogs and deliver pork to others without a permit or license. WFA's restrictions on farm slaughter of hogs and delivery of pork were first suspended for three months from Nov. 16, 1943, to Feb. 17, 1944. This period was extended to March 17. Amendment 12 to FDO 75 places no termination date on the suspension.

Application for gas for farm tractors and gasoline engines or motors used for food production must be approved by the County AAA committee. These applications have been coming in for the past three weeks.

Cutler F. Shaw, chairman, states that he feels certain that all Columbiana county farmers who use non-highway gas will have been contacted by April 1.

However, if for any reason farmers have not as yet made application for their gas for the coming year for use in tractors or gasoline propelled machinery they should contact their community committee-man at once, Shaw warns.

Beginning April 15 support prices on live hogs will again apply only to good and choice barrows and gilts weighing from 200 to 270 pounds. The War Food administration on that date will terminate temporary emergency support program for hogs from 170 to 330 pounds, according to Pollock, mid-west regional director of food distribution, WFA.

THE RED CARNATION by BURTON STEVENSON

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

For a moment there was a coned whirl, and then a woman's face, shaken with emotion was seen. "The baby isn't his, and he isn't suspect anything, and every day it is getting more and more like its father, and I'm so glad. If he notices, I'll kill my- I couldn't bear it. He has been good to me and I love him more and more."

The voice stopped suddenly, and a whirl and mutter began again. Tony snapped off the switch. "Well, well!" exclaimed Duffy. "I don't wonder McKibben looked it. But why should any woman tell me that?"

Tony took the cylinder out of the machine and examined it carefully. This looks to me as though it had been made from another record," he said. "You see how it has been turned around on either side of the record portion. It is only a part of what was on the original record. When she didn't say it to McKibben," observed Duffy thoughtfully. And he had it locked up in his file. He must have considered it shabby. Blackmail, eh? Maybe this what Lily Edgerton was talking about. It sounds like her voice."

"It does," Tony nodded. "I'll have to see her again," said the detective. "She must know more about it. But where in the world would McKibben get a word like that?"

The columnist made no comment. He had the glimmer of an idea in his mind, but he decided to keep to himself until he had thought out.

"I'll lock this up again," Duffy said, and carefully replaced the cylinder in the compartment of the safe, locking the door. "I've got to keep up on the people outside, while the staff gets me out a list of customers. Speaking of customers," he added with a smile. "You're not the only person who gets anonymous tips," and he drew a letter from his pocket.

"Sure," Tony agreed. "You depend on them more than I do." "This was sent down from H. Q. a while ago," and Duffy held the letter out to him. The envelope was addressed "Attention Lieutenant Duffy." It had a special delivery stamp on it, and had been mailed at the West Sixty-ninth Street office.

"Somebody who knows you are working on the east," Tony said, "but who doesn't know your address."

"And somebody who lives somewhere around Central Park West," Duffy added. "Maybe in the same apartment house. Remarkable how all of these letters come from there. Go ahead and read it. It has been tested for fingerprints. There aren't any."

Tony drew out the single sheet paper and read:

It might be worth while for the police to inquire whether any of John McKibben's customers has recently committed suicide.

The ribbon had been typed with a black word on a plain sheet of paper which looked as though it had been torn from a pad.

"This looks familiar to me," Tony commented.

"It ought to," Duffy agreed. "It was written on the same machine as the note you got. See that nick in the tail of the 'g'?"

Yes, there it was in the second word, and the 'a' in 'any' was definitely out of line.

He handed the letter silently back to the detective.

"I'll check up, of course," the latter said, "as soon as I get the list of customers. But I don't see the point. McKibben certainly couldn't have been killed by somebody who had already killed himself."

"Maybe he left some revengeful relatives," Tony suggested. "Any way, there are plenty of customers left, from the looks of the outside room, and some of them appear to be pretty desperate. Then there are the writers of the love letters," and he nodded toward the safe.

"I don't want you to mention them, Tony," said Duffy, "nor this cylinder either. Not yet."

"All right, I won't," the columnist agreed, and three minutes later he was out on Wall Street again. As he turned up toward Broadway, the thing he had been trying to recall ever since he had read Garriety's note flashed into his head. Lawrence Terry—why, of course!

He hurried across the street to the Bankers Trust building, went up to the library on the third floor, and asked to see a copy of the Record of the day before. He was looking for a short item about a suicide—yes, here it was:

Mount Vernon, N. Y., April 11.—Lawrence Terry, of Westchester Avenue, was found dead this afternoon, sitting at his desk in his study. He had shot himself through the head, and the revolver was still grasped in his hand. A note on the desk stated that he had killed himself because of ill health.

The body was found by his son, Franklin Terry, who stated that his father had been suffering from a severe nervous trouble for the past two years, and that the family had moved from Virginia to Mount Vernon about a year ago in order to be near a specialist in New York, who had been treating his father.

Previous to his illness, Mr. Terry had been a member of the faculty of William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va. He was fifty-two years of age, and leaves two children—Franklin Terry and a daughter, Leda. The body will be taken to Virginia for burial.

For a moment Tony stared fascinated at the word "Leda." Then he returned the paper to the file, hurried up to Broadway, took the subway to Grand Central, and just managed to catch the 3:10 express for Mount Vernon.

Monday afternoon Lawrence Terry had been found dead in his study, and yet at midnight that same day his daughter had been dancing in a night club. How, in heaven's name, explain that?

She had gone with Jack McKibben to his apartment, and nine hours later his dead body had been found on the floor of his bedroom. What had Lawrence Terry's death to do with that? Only yesterday—could it have been only yesterday...?

It hadn't taken so long, after all. Less than thirty hours. Tony had located the girl, and now he was on his way to clear up the mystery. He would have to work rapidly, for he knew perfectly well that Duffy would soon be on his trail. He sat erect with a sudden start.

"I've got a hunch that I'm going to find both of them in the same place," Duffy had said. Could it be?

Here We Go Again!

Now It's Time To File Your Tax Estimate For Year '44

Some 15 million taxpayers must file by midnight of April 15 another of those daddabusted income tax returns. This return is the declaration of estimated income and Victory tax for 1944. It was originally due March 15 but was postponed to relieve taxpayers and revenue collectors of having to struggle with two complicated returns at the same time.

You must make a declaration of estimated tax if:

1. You are single (or married and not living with spouse) and expect to receive in 1944—
 - (a) More than $2,700 in wages subject to withholding; or
 - (b) More than $100 in income from other sources, provided total income is expected to be $500 or more.
2. You are married and living with spouse and expect to receive in 1944, either alone or together with your spouse—
 - (a) More than $3,500 in wages subject to withholding; or
 - (b) More than $100 income from other sources provided your total combined income is expected to be $1,200 or more, or your total separate income is expected to be more than $624.

Your declaration is made on a small form, 1040-ES. Along with this form, you should obtain from the revenue bureau a four-page pamphlet of instructions and work sheets to help compute the estimated 1944 tax. Compute your estimate on a work sheet before attempting to fill out the declaration form.

Two Forms Again

There are two kinds of work sheets. One is a simplified form for computing the tax on incomes of not more than $10,000. The other is a longer alternative sheet for estimating the tax on incomes over $10,000 or for figuring the tax on smaller incomes where more detailed, precise computation is desired.

The simplified work sheet has a tax estimating table which makes automatic allowance for deductions such as interest, taxes and contributions, amounting to about eight percent of income after the taking of personal exemption and credit for dependents. A majority of taxpayers will use this work sheet because it is easier to fill out.

However, if your anticipated deductions for 1944 exceed eight percent, it probably will be advantageous to use the longer, alternative work sheet. While persons with expected incomes of more than $10,000 are required to use this form, any taxpayer may use it if he wishes.

Retain One Copy

Two changes have made the alternative sheet simpler than it was last year. The 10 percent earned income credit has been abolished and a new tax table enables you to figure the combined amount of normal tax and surtax.

After computing your estimated 1944 tax on a work sheet, figure on a separate piece of paper the amount of tax to be withheld from your wages during the year.

Do not send your work sheet to the collection. Keep it, together with a copy of your declaration, for use in making out your annual return next March. This copy also will come in handy if you have to make other quarterly tax payments.

THE BIG ADVANTAGE in smoking PHILIP MORRIS

They're proved less irritating to the nose and throat... and every puff is finer-tasting!

HERE'S why you'll find—in PHILIP MORRIS—a lot more smoking-enjoyment.

First, in laboratory research, PHILIP MORRIS were proved definitely and measurably less irritating.

But that's not all! In addition, the findings of a group of distinguished doctors prove that:

WHEN SMOKERS CHANGED TO PHILIP MORRIS, SUBSTANTIALLY EVERY CASE OF IRRITATION OF THE NOSE OR THROAT—DUE TO SMOKING—CLEARED UP COMPLETELY OR DEFINITELY IMPROVED!

Full reports of these findings appeared in leading medical journals.

No curative effects are claimed for PHILIP MORRIS.

BUT—this impartial evidence proves them to be far less irritating—safer—for the nose and throat!

SUPREME COURT

gress can do as the guardian of the public interest of the nation in time of war.

Justice Roberts, dissenting, contended the price control act unconstitutional delegated legislative power to the price administrator and declared in his view Congress could not suspend during war any of the Constitution's provisions.

Restraint Order Sought

In the rent control case, OPA Administrator Chester Bowles had sought to restrain Mrs. Williamingham from state court proceedings against issuance of an order fixing a rent ceiling for her property.

The district court held the legislation was an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power. The OPA appealed that decision directly to the Supreme court.

The majority opinion stated there was "no grant of unbridled administrative discretion" as Mrs. Williamingham argued.

"Congress has not told the administrator to fix rents whenever and wherever he might like at whatever levels he pleases," Justice Douglas stated.

"Congress has directed that maximum rents be fixed in those areas where defense activities have resulted or threaten to result in increased rentals inconsistent with the purpose of the act."

"And it has supplied the standard and the base period to guide the administrator in determining what the maximum rentals should be in a given area."

Further Explanation

Furthermore, the court said, "to require hearings for thousands of landlords before any rent control order could be made effective might have defeated the program of price control, or Congress might well have thought so. National security might not be able to afford the luxuries of litigation and the long delays which preliminary hearings traditionally have entailed."

"We fully recognize... that even the war power does not remove constitutional limitations safeguarding essential liberties."

but where Congress has provided for judicial review after the regulations or orders have been made effective it has done all that due process under the way emergency requires."

In dissenting, Justice Roberts said that under the rent control provisions of the price control act, Congress had unconstitutionally delegated the law making power "in toto to an administrative officer."

Judge Turns Down Collett Trial Plea

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, March 27.—Common Pleas Judge H. M. Rankin overruled today a motion asking a new trial for James W. Collett, convicted slayer of the Elmer McCoy family last Thanksgiving eve.

Collett, 60-year-old Clinton county hog breeder, was found guilty March 10 by a jury of nine men and three women which failed to recommend mercy, making the death penalty mandatory.

Judge Rankin's decision came unexpectedly and was 14 pages in length. It concluded:

"Counsel may confer at once with respect to further proceedings herein and in case they cannot agree the court will fix a time when final disposition of the case will be made."

The defense sought the new trial on grounds that numerous errors were committed during the two-week trial and the contention that the testimony of a witness who said he saw Collett near the murder scene had been "impeached."

Paper Drive Planned To Aid Honor Roll Fund

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 27.—A civilian defense council waste paper collection drive, in which city, Liverpool township and private trucks will co-operate, will open Wednesday to bolster a fund for erection of an honor roll listing the names of this pottery city's 3,422 sons and daughters in the armed services.

The board will be erected in front of city hall for dedication as part of the Memorial day observance.

Blast Rocks Plant

FAIRCHANCE, Pa., March 27.—Damage estimated at $20,000 was caused at the glazing mill of the Du Pont powder plant near here today, when an explosion, caused by lightning, destroyed a small building.

No one was in the building at the time, the company said, and no one was injured.

Salvation Army's New Citadel Here

The modernistic glass block front of the Salvation Army's new citadel on S. Broadway, pictured above, presents a pleasing appearance. It is a marked contrast to the old frame building which the Army has used on W. Second st. for many years. The new headquarters was dedicated at special ceremonies Sunday.

Bricker Warns of Job Needs After War Ends

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 27.—Sixty million jobs, "10,000,000 more than we had before the war," must be available in America after hostilities end, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio asserts.

The Ohio chief executive, making a swing through the south and southwest in support of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination declared in a radio address here yesterday that industries must be returned to private owners after the war.

The government can not provide the 60,000,000 jobs, but it can encourage the atmosphere in which private enterprise can thrive and make them available, he added.

At a weekend press conference in Little Rock, Bricker said the Republican party would make "great inroads" in the solid south this year.

DEDICATION

an American flag to Col. Spattig in short color ceremonies led by Commander Ted Coyne. Greetings were heard from Mayor R. R. Johnson, representing the city officials and departments; Rev. R. E. Mosher, secretary of the Salem Ministerial association, of which Capt. Barton has been president for three years; F. W. McKee, for the Community Chest, and J. M. Kelley, Salem youths.

Musical numbers included the "Salem Temple March," a stirring new march written by Capt. Barton and dedicated to the Salem corps, played by the divisional ensemble; piano duets, "Stars and Stripes Forever" (Souza) and "Under Two Flags" (Coles), played by Captains Douglas Bethune of Barbervien and Robert Barton; vocal solo, "I Walked One Day," Ad. J. MacMurdo of Warren.

Lieut. Col. Bates expressed the appreciation of the corps officers and workers for community support in their work and for active assistance in the establishment of the new headquarters.

The building, redecoration of which is not entirely completed, includes an office for the corps heads and an auditorium on the main floor, with a kitchen and dining hall and recreation room in the basement. Second floor classrooms and club rooms will be additional features.

A series of services dedicated to the development of spiritual life of the community will open at the citadel at 7:45 p. m. Thursday with Ad. Henry Hillier of East Liverpool as principal speaker.

It is estimated that more than one-third of all two-year-old children have cavities in their teeth.

Learn something about your War Bonds from this fellow!

THE BEST THING a bulldog does is HANG ON! Once he gets hold of something, it's mighty hard to make him let go!

And that's the lesson about War Bonds you can learn from him. Once you get hold of a War Bond, HANG ON TO IT for the full ten years of its life.

There are at least two very good reasons why you should do this. One is a patriotic reason... the other a personal reason.

You buy War Bonds because you know Uncle Sam needs money to fight this war. And you want to put some of your money into the fight. But... if you don't hang on to those War Bonds, your money isn't going to stay in the battle.

Another reason you Buy War Bonds is because you want to set aside some money for your family's future and yours. No one knows just what's going to happen after the War. But the man with a fistful of War Bonds knows he'll have a roof over his head and 3 square meals a day no matter what happens!

War Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 in 10 years. But, if you don't hang on to your Bonds for the full ten years, you don't get the full face value, and... you won't have that money coming in later on when you may need it a lot worse than you need it today.

So buy War Bonds... more and more War Bonds. And then keep them. You will find that War Bonds are very good things to have... and to hold!

Home Insulation Pays Benefits Years Later

The benefits repeat year after year to those who have their homes insulated, and the fuel economies continue to pile up their yearly dividends long after they have paid for the initial cost.

If necessary you can control application costs by having the ceiling of the top floor or the side walls done as separate jobs. Either will cut fuel bills up to 25%. Later you can have the rest done. Most any home owner would be much ahead to borrow the money, however, and have a complete insulation application made. The interest charge would be only a small fraction of the saving in fuel bills alone.

Consult R. B. Finley at the Finley Music store on S. Broadway, he will show you how your furnace and your fuel bill can take a vacation by comparison with past winters after your home is insulated with John's Manville "Blown" Rock Wool.

Aside from the economy during the winter months an insulated home is cool in summer, making your home comfortable the year around.

Wounded Navy Gunner Absolves Crewmen Who Accidentally Shot Down U. S. Planes

(By Associated Press)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 27.—A wounded Memphis sailor disclosed today he was one of the Navy gunners who shot down 23 United States transport planes last July at Gela, Sicily, and he declared: "No one can blame the Navy gunners, for we were just a watch tick from death that night."

The sailor, Gordon B. Manley, boatswain's mate second class, later was wounded at Salerno and now is in a Philadelphia hospital. Manley, declaring "no one seems to explain just what happened" that night, wrote an account of the episode to Press-Scimitar Columnist Eldon Roark "in defense of the naval gunners."

Part of his letter follows: "We had invaded the night before and our big guns had been hitting them (the enemy) all day, knocking out tanks, shore batteries, railroads, railroad guns, troops and trucks. I am speaking now of the warship I was on. I heard later that our big guns alone put over 23 tons of projectiles over that day. So they were apparently out to get our ship."

"We had several air attacks through the day. Some time during the afternoon, 35 German bombers came after us. They got one of our cargo ships about 3 p. m. The burning ship exploded, making a mountain of smoke that spread slowly all over the bay, turning day into night."

"About 7 p. m. my gunnery officer passed word around telling us that there would be 200 of our transport planes over about 10 p. m. About 20 minutes before our planes came over, the German bombers came in. The ship was still burning. Our destroyers had tried to sink it and made things worse as the oil spread all over the water, burning, making it look as if the whole sea were burning; and as I say, there was a solid blanket of smoke over most of that part of the coast."

"When the Germans came in, guided by the fire, they dropped the sky full of flares until they spotted us. Then, boy, that is where things really began to happen. . . . Bombs were dropping like hail this time, knocking some of the boys off their feet when they burst."

Then U. S. Planes Came Over "Right in the middle of all of this, our planes came over, the first we knew they were there."

"My eyes were every place at once. I would glance at the water every second or so, watching for E boats as this is the time they come and do their dirty work. During one of those glances, I spied a plane that looked as large as the Columbia tower (in Memphis) headed 30 feet above the water about right into the side of our ship. All of us that saw it opened up on it. When we shot him down, he was less than 100 feet from the ship."

"There were no paratroops on that one and all of the crew of 10 were saved. Also, our boats picked up many of the troops that bailed out."

"Now, Eldon, I think I know as much about what happened that night as anyone there as I really had a ringside seat, and that is just exactly how the whole thing happened. No one can blame the Navy gunners, for we were just a watch tick from death that night, and were shooting to live another day."

Talked to Pilots Later "You can imagine just how we felt the next morning when we found what really had happened. But that is just one of those things that happen in these lovely wars."

"I made it my business when I got back to Africa to talk to some of the pilots and I talked to several of them. They all seemed to agree that it was the smoke. . . . All of them thought the smoke was a large cloud bank. Most of them went around it. They are the ones who lived to fly another day."

"I also talked with quite a few of the paratroops that went over that night, but, fellow, I sure can't write here what they said about it. In fact, I did not let them know I was there. They put a few questions at me. I told them I was on shore duty at Algiers. They did not blame the Navy; they blamed the ones that sent them over us."

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, March 27.—To fill the dull training days, the Giants and Dodgers are working up another feud, this time over Branch Rickey's statement that Brooklyn players who never had worn major league uniforms could whip a similar team of Giants, providing he could play stretch Schultz at first.

Horace Stoneham, claiming Buddy Kerr as an antidote to Schultz, has gone so far as to name a lineup and offers to play it against them Bums as a preliminary to one of the Red Cross games, April 13. What's their hurry? By mid season, those guys probably will be the regulars.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Don Pierce, Topeka (Kas.) Daily Capital: "Clark Shaughnessy has diagrammed a lot of perplexing T formation plays for the Bears but none as bewildering as his recent man-in-motion maneuver around Ralph Brizzolara into the Redskin camp."

Jack Dugger, Ohio State basketball stand-out, is one of the few court stars (maybe the only one) who wears contact lenses. The shortage of exercise boys around race tracks is so acute that Earl Sande has been galloping some of his own horses and in Kentucky any kid who knows how to work a nag can pick up $25 to $30 a day.

The attendance at Stillman's gym is considered a barometer for Garden fights and the place has been crammed nearly every afternoon lately. No wonder, for 30 cents at Stillman's you can see all the big-time scrappers who command $16.50 prices. Quote from one basketball coach who prefers to remain anonymous: "We have been experimenting with those 12-foot baskets suggested by Phog Allen and, oddly enough, I'm in favor of them if we have to make some change. I wouldn't admit it, but the kids don't seem to notice much difference."

POP POPS OFF

Line from Hugh Fullerton, Sr.: "From the way Clark Griffith is bringing up Cubans, it looks as if that message to Garcia was 'send me left handed pitchers.'"

JIGGERS, MORE FIGURES

If the war doesn't interfere, Ernie Calvery's 534-point college basketball scoring record may be in danger in the next few seasons. During the recent campaign Curt McCamy of West Fargo, N. D., High rang up 569 points in 27 games and Joe Hensley of Alexandria, Va., George Washington High hit 479 in 29 games. And when Pauline Morris of Coopersville, Tenn., High scored 801 points in 23 girls' games a sports scribe warned her to look out for college coaches who were shy on manpower.

SERVICE DEPT.

Just before the baseball season began, the Bainbridge, Md., naval training station lost a couple of good infield prospects—Johnny Pesky, ex-Red Sox, who was shipped to Atlanta for a training course in aerial gunnery and navigation that would qualify him for an ensign's commission, and Jimmy Vernon, formerly of the Senators.

Now they must know how the big league clubs feel.

You Can Be Better Athlete If You're A Christian—Dodds

(By Associated Press)
SMITHVILLE, March 27.—"You can be a much better athlete if you are a Christian," says Gil Dodds, unchallenged king of the miler. The Boston divinity student occupied his father's pulpit at morning and evening services yesterday in the First Brethren church of this Wayne county village.

At evening services Dodds asserted it is possible to be both an athlete and a true Christian.

"The race of life has similar rules to those an athlete follows in training," he said. "You can be a much better athlete if you are a Christian."

The left ankle he sprained while winning the two-mile event at the Knights of Columbus track meet in Cleveland Friday is "coming along fine," Dodds reported. He added his next track appearance probably would be made in May.

A student at Boston theological school, Dodds plans to go to Ashland, O., Thursday for examinations in correspondence courses he has been studying toward completing his work at Ashland college.

KEYSTONE HOPE

By Jack Sords

Spring Training Camp Briefs

(By Associated Press)
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 27.—Barring any further onslaugths by Gen. Hershey's representatives, Bill McKennie, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, has a pretty good idea what his starting lineup will be April 18—the day the Reds open the season against the Chicago Cubs in Cincinnati.

Matters in left and right fields seem to be settled with Eric Tipton and Gee Walker, respectively, slated for the jobs. In the center will be either Dain Clay or Tony Criscola.

What happens to Frank McCormick, first baseman who takes his induction physical next Saturday in Indianapolis, is a bothersome question for McKennie. If McCormick passes his place will be filled by Chuck Aleno.

Rolland Harrington, rookie second sacker, will stay with the club until called to the colors. When he goes, Woody Williams will take his place.

Eddie Miller, last year's regular shortstop will be back. Buck Fausett will do the honors in the hot corner.

Expect To Be Around
Ray Mueller, Reds' iron-man catcher, will be assisted this year by Lennie Rice, a newcomer, and Al Lakeman.

Joe Beggs, Ed Heusser and Bucky Walters are three of last year's pitchers who are expected to be around.

Pitcher Elmer Riddle, who has just passed his army physical examination at Ft. McPherson, Ga., said last night he had not yet decided whether he would report to the Reds' training camp.

At Lafayette, Ind., Cleveland Indian officials said Rookie Hurlers Ed (Specs) Kileman and Lefty Hal Kleine will be the first to stride onto the mound when outdoor play is resumed.

Both were slated for duty yesterday but rain and snow forced cancellation of the Tribe's first exhibition game with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Muncie, Ind.

Shows He Can Hit
News from other big league camps: Rookie Outfielder Augie Bergame of Detroit showed the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday he can hit.

"HERE IS YOUR COUNTRY HOME MADE TO ORDER!" WILL EXCHANGE FOR A LEETONIA PROPERTY!
 Thirty-eight acres located about six miles south of Salem. This land is ideal for farming as it is self-draining and is sandy loam. Is in a high state of cultivation. Grand for chickens and fruit. Is improved with an extra nice six-room house with electric, electric pump, furnace and modern bath room with base tub. Laundry in the cellar. This home has a beautiful setting as it is surrounded by beautiful shade trees. Buildings are back from the main road, about 1,000 yards which is the right distance to make it exclusive.
 Good barn equipped with stanchions for five cows. Large chicken house which will carry from 500 to 600 layers. Other necessary outbuildings in good condition. Nice apple orchard and variety of all kinds of fruits.
 We can include three nice cows, one heifer, large work horse. A few other small tools. Price for farm and equipment only $7,900. If you do not need the stock and equipment, we can sell you the bare farm.
 The owner is leaving for service is the only reason this farm is for sale. Must be sold at once, so if you are interested in a real home with sufficient land to raise your living, get in touch with me at once. At this price this home will soon be in the hands of a new owner.

COAL MINER HELD IN KNIFE MURDERS

Admits Killing Divorced
Wife and Companion In Car At Bellaire

(By Associated Press)
BELLAIRE, March 27.—Prosecutor Ross Michener said he would charge Donald Maurizio, 42-year-old coal miner, with first degree murder today in the fatal stabbing of Maurizio's divorced wife, Teresa, 35, and Henry Spradling, 38.

The couple was slain as they sat in the rear seat of an automobile outside a night club near here early Sunday.

Two companions of the stabbing victim, Clyde Snyder and Josephine Bigovich, came out of the night club, saw the couple slumped in the car, but thought they were asleep. They drove to Mrs. Maurizio's home five miles away before they discovered their friends were dead, Michener reported.

The prosecutor said Maurizio, who also was known as Donald Myrio, stabbed the victims with a pocket-knife during an argument after opening the door of the car in which they were seated while Snyder and Miss Bigovich were inside the Oasis night club at nearby Shadyside, home of Spradling, also a miner.

Sheriff Cloyd L. Barricklow, who later took Maurizio to Belmont county jail in St. Clairsville, said Maurizio "took a running dive" at bars of his cell in Bellaire jail after signing the statement, opening a gash on his head which a physician treated without stitches.

Snyder said he and Miss Bigovich returned to the car after being inside the club about 15 minutes. He related he thought the pair in the rear seat asleep until he turned on the dome light of his car in front of Mrs. Maurizio's home and found them dead. He sped to police headquarters where word was sent out to pick up Maurizio.

Maurizio was located in Bridgeport, four miles north of here, after Marshal Carl Knellinger said a resident there informed him the miner had visited his home, admitted the stabbings and threatened to kill himself.

Maurizio was quoted by Michener as saying he left the night club and saw his wife, from whom he had been divorced about a year, in a car with a companion. He opened the door and told Mrs. Maurizio she should be home at that hour with their daughter (Joan, 20, a beauty operator).

Spradling started up but Maurizio pulled a knife from his pocket and lunged at him. When Mrs. Maurizio attempted to interfere, she too was stabbed, Michener said Maurizio related.

Barricklow said both victims were stabbed through the heart and had several knife marks and gashes on their bodies and arms.

U. S. BOMBERS

Last night's foray was the third night in succession that the RAF's heavy bombers had been out over the continent in force.

The venture into occupied territory last night was a follow-up to the Saturday night heavy bomber assault on Aulnoye, a French rail-way junction on the Belgian border, and Lyon in southeastern France. Mosquitoes gave Berlin a light going over the same night.

American heavy and medium bombers and fighters, massing in the skies in numbers estimated to total possibly 1,700, beat a rapid tattoo throughout yesterday on targets near the coasts of France and in the Netherlands.

The American operations cost five bombers and one fighter.

In old Poland, where some Russian units are within 35 miles of the Bug river, the Red army was declared to have surrounded Tarnopol, and to be wiping out the German garrison. Other Russian forces already had by-passed the city in their drive toward Lwow.

(German broadcasts asserted the Russians had thrown 100,000 men into a new drive along the Mogilev sector of White Russia, but the report had no Soviet confirmation.)

The honor of reaching the Prut fell to Es-Lumberjack Marshal Ivan S. Konev and his Second Ukrainian army.

The Russians, in their epic military comeback since the Nazis hammered at Stalingrad and swept so close to Moscow its people could hear the boom of his guns and see the flashes of exploding shells, have recovered all except about 60,000 square miles of pre-1939 Russian territory. Since Stalingrad they have marched back 300 miles.

to have Chaplin declared the father of her infant daughter, testified that he had intimate relations with the gray-haired actor in his Waldorf Astoria suite after he had made a speech in Carnegie hall.

The prosecution contends Chaplin assertedly violated the Mann act because he furnished his Berry's railroad fare to New York and because he reputedly gave her $300 to return to California and because he allegedly was intimate with her here and in New York. Conviction on both counts provides a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both.

Giesler in addressing the jury declared Chaplin's motives in furnishing money for Miss Berry's transportation here legitimate, above board and honest.

DRAFT BOARDS GET SPEED UP ORDERS

COLUMBUS, March 27.—Lt. Col. Carl Wahl, head of the manpower division of Ohio Selective Service, today said orders had been sent local draft boards to speed up reviews of men under 25.

Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt Saturday night gave government agencies until March 29 to assemble information on the deferment needs of the industries under their jurisdiction in order to set in motion the call-up of young workers.

McNutt told the agencies the new program intends to send "all the able-bodied men in this age group (22 through 25) to the armed forces and to limit deferments only to those who are irreplaceable."

The new order means no lessening of the induction pace for eligibles beyond 25, however, it was pointed out.

cidally flung against the Empress Augusta bay perimeter on Bougainville; heavy bombers struck again at the Kurile islands just north and east of the Japanese homeland.

300 Japs Are Slain

Some 300 Japanese, well-armed and well-fed, were cut to pieces in assaulting the American strong-point on Bougainville. They advanced almost to a command post on hill 129 before U. S. fire killed them off.

Associated Press War correspondent Charles H. McMurtry said there were indications the enemy was preparing for more such attacks.

Liberators for the first time hit Onnekotan island in the Kuriles. The strike was significant because it moved the American attack one notch closer to Tokyo from that direction. Paramushiro, 29 miles northeast of Onnekotan, was bombed for the sixth time. Shimushu, another Kurile island, also was hit.

In the Central Pacific, Medium bombers hit Ponape, eastern guardian of Truk and three unnamed enemy positions in the American-dominated Marshalls.

Improve Invasion Holdings
In the Admiralty islands, American dismounted cavalrymen continued mopping up Japanese who scattered after the fall of Lorengau on Manus island nine days ago, and on Friday occupied without opposition the islets of Ano and Ndova off the southeast coast of Manus.

American destroyers, aiding the mop-up process, poured broadsides onto Pityilu island, northwest of Lorengau and on the northern fringe of Seader harbor.

Eisewhere around the Bismarck sea, the Allies improved the invasion holdings.

Rabaul, New Britain, most-bombed spot in the South Pacific, shook under 82 tons of bombs and Fifth Army Air Force bombers and fighters dealt a 207-ton bombing blow at Wewak, New Guinea, Saturday.

The Japanese in India pushed one spearhead nearer Kohima, not far from the Bengal-Assam railroad which supplies Allied forces in northern India. Kohima is about 60 miles north of Imphal.

A U. S. communique from Chungking disclosed that American bombers raided rail installations in Indo-China and along the Burma road in Burma.

Republicans Attack Truman's Leadership Appeal As Politics

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Republican charges that Sen. Truman (D., Mo.) was using his chairmanship to further a fourth term for President Roosevelt blew up a political storm today over the senate's war investigating committee.

Sen. Bushfield (R., S. D.) answered Truman's plea for a continuation of the President's "wise and experienced" leadership with an assertion that the committee which has been critical of some phases of the war effort apparently was "being used now to forward the candidacy of one man for president."

"I think the statement is completely partisan and out of place," Bushfield declared.

In a press statement issued through the office of the secretary of the senate in his absence, Truman said yesterday that with the crucial European invasion at hand "our commander-in-chief will require prayerful understanding and vigorous support."

"I think the country realizes," the Missouriian said, "that we have wise and experienced leadership. And I am further convinced that this leadership will be continued until the job at hand is completed. No one can divide us in this supreme effort."

Republican members of the committee said the statement took them by surprise, inasmuch as the group only recently reaffirmed its policy of keeping politics out of its work.

Sen. Ball (R., Minn.) commented that Truman's statement "obviously was made for its political effect" and he and Senators Brewster (R., Me.) and Burton (R., Ohio) joined in declaring the Missouriian was not expressing the committee's sentiments.

They challenged Truman's assertion that home front faults found by the committee "are insignificant in comparison with the great achievements that have resulted."

Truman has been mentioned for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

been driven from the land they have ravaged, but the guts of the German army have been largely torn out by Russian valor and generalship.

The victorious advance of the Soviet armies, Churchill said, "has been the main cause of Hitler's approaching downfall" in the Balkans.

The Allied campaign in Italy, he said, "has not been as rapid or decisive as we had hoped," but he added he had no doubt Rome would be "rescued."

Although Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express declared the prime minister's "story of achievements in every direction was impressive—and none more than the record of home front preparations," the Laborite Daily Herald and the Daily Mail expressed dissatisfaction with the part in which the prime minister said progress had been made in shaping such post-war projects as housing, education, national health, national insurance and demobilization of the armed forces, adding that "one might have expected" that the government would have been commended.

Production Is Resumed At Cleveland Factory

CLEVELAND, March 27.—Normal production was resumed at the American Steel and Wire Co.'s American works today, following a brief work stoppage last night.

Company officials described the production force on hand at the first shift today as "nearly normal."

The stoppage followed a meeting last night of the plant local of the United Steel Workers at which Ray Jablonowski, retiring as president of the local, announced 900 or more employees would refuse to work until international union officials recognized the local's grievance committee.

The present stoppage involves no dispute with the company, Jablonowski emphasized.

Engineer Dies In Ohio Train Mishap

OTTAWA, March 27.—A Nickel Plate freight train smashed into the rear of a troop train three miles east of Leipsic today. The freight's engineer died as he leaped from his cab an instant before the crash, but no military personnel was reported injured.

All cars on the troop train remained on the track, but six freight cars were derailed.

The engineer killed was Clyde O. McDonnell, 50, of Fort Wayne, Ind. Fireman William Perse of Fort Wayne remained in the cab and escaped with minor injuries, while H. W. Lee of Fort Wayne, flagman on the troop train, suffered internal injuries and fractured ribs.

The troop train, which had stopped at a water tower, was rammed forward 30 feet by the impact, railroad spokesmen said.

E. F. Peters of Fort Wayne, division trainmaster, said traffic probably would be opened on the tracks this afternoon. Wrecking crews were sent from Fort Wayne and Bellevue.

Grain Plantings In Ohio May Set New Records This Year

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, March 27.—Ohio's corn, soybean and oats acreages in 1944 may break previous records, while hay and potato plantings may drop to new all-time lows, the Federal-State Crop Reporting service estimates.

The service reported yesterday a survey of Buckeye farmers' planting intentions indicated the soybean acreage this season would total 1,558,000, the largest ever planted in Ohio.
